

PHARMACY AND POISONS BOARD

CONDOLENCE MESSAGE

The Pharmacy and Poisons Board mourns the passing of Prof. Julius Wanjohi Mwangi, a distinguished pharmacist and pioneer in herbal medicine regulation. Prof. Mwangi, a highly respected professor of Pharmacognosy at the University of Nairobi, dedicated his life to the study and advancement of herbal and complementary medicines. His expertise and extensive experience played a pivotal role in shaping the regulatory framework for these medicines in our country.

As a former Board Member and member of the committee of experts for herbal and complementary medicines at the Pharmacy and Poisons Board, he provided invaluable guidance and knowledge, making him an essential resource for our organization. Beyond his professional accomplishments, Prof. Mwangi was a compassionate mentor, a devoted teacher, and a true inspiration to many. His impact as a board member and his unwavering commitment to fostering the growth of our field will be deeply missed. Countless individuals have had the privilege of learning from him and benefiting from his vast wisdom.

We honor his contributions and extend heartfelt condolences to his family and friends. Prof. Mwangi's influence will forever be cherished. May his legacy continue to shine bright.
